SHORTEST COAST-TO-COAST AIRWAY

Inauguration of service over Western Air's Los Angeles-Denver "cut-off" route completes the last link in America's shortest coast-to-coast airway. Only California-New York route to follow the "Great Circle," it joins along a 2543-mile airway the nation's leading production centers, directly serves 85 million people, $\frac{2}{3}$ of the country's total.

SPECTACULAR—SCENIC—The new "cut-off" route shortens by 2 hours best previous time between Denver and Los Angeles for west-bound vacationists, brings the Rocky Mountain playgrounds and dude ranch country within a few hours of the West Coast. The most spectacular and scenic flight in the U. S., the "cut-off" traverses bright-hued Zion and Bryce National Parks, Boulder Dam and Lake Mead, and the Mojave desert.

Fly the "cut-off" route. Save time—See America's most spectacular country from the air.
